

BULK CARRIER LAYOUT AND CONSTRUCTION (ONLINE)

ONLINE

All seafarers that work on Bulk Carriers should understand the special features that makes these vessels the strong work horses of the oceans. They have been designed specifically to carry large amounts of product across the ocean with short load and unload programs. This course takes participants through the features of a Bulk Carrier, how they withstand the load and unload process and how they need to be managed throughout their working life. Participants will be able to identify the structural parts of a Bulk Carrier and how the vessel has been designed to be safe when loaded or when in ballast.

DURATION: Online, approximately 30 minutes
