

LOADMASTER TRAINING LIQUID CARGOES

COURSE ALSO KNOWN AS:
LNG LOADMASTER, LPG LOADMASTER, OIL LOADMASTER

Designed for personnel involved in the loading of LNG, LPG and Oil cargoes. Meets the competencies as set out in OCIMF Marine and Terminal Operator Competence Training Guide. Typically the course will cover all cargo types but can be tailored to meet the needs of the client.

The course is normally conducted over three days and is delivered through a mixture of lectures, group discussions, case studies and exercises conducted on a Kongsberg Liquid Cargo Handling Loading Simulator.

WHO SHOULD PARTICIPATE?

This course is intended to provide training in LNG, LPG and Condensate (Oil) loading operations for the following roles:

- Individuals who will be filling the position of terminal representative on loading tankers
- Onboard seafarers, to provide an understanding of the shore side operations of loading
- Port side workers, to provide an understanding of tanker operations

LOADMASTER SIMULATOR

The course utilises a Kongsberg Liquid Cargo Handling Simulator designed to show the full extent of operations undertaken on board ship during the load process. The cargo simulator has the ability to utilise different vessel models, including a Membrane LNG Tanker, a semi-refrigerated LPG Tanker and a Crude Oil Tanker. Interaction with shore representatives is incorporated to ensure that the system functions as would be expected in a real-world situation. The Kongsberg Simulator is approved by Det Norske Veritas as meeting the compliance requirements of Standard for Certification No. 2.14 (January 2011).

INSTRUCTORS

The course is conducted by Chris McGuire and David Kenny.
