OF SHIPS AND SHIPPING

This engaging course provides participants with an overview of all aspects of shipping from the ships themselves to ownership, flags and the regulatory regime.

WHO SHOULD PARTICIPATE?

Of Ships and Shipping is designed for anyone working in the industry who doesn’t necessarily have a background in shipping or seafaring, but who could benefit from a good general understanding of the recent history of shipping, international regulations in an uncomplicated format and trade flows.

COURSE CONTENT

The Ships Themselves | Tonnage | World Maritime Trade Routes | International Regulations | Ownership, Flags and Registries | Load lines | Chartering | Ballast water | Emissions and slow steaming | Australia's Territorial Waters.

LECTURER

Of Ships and Shipping is taught by Richard Pocock, a Master Mariner (FG) who has managed large port logistics businesses, a Capital Port, and shipping companies during his 50 year maritime career.

Richard has taught across Australia and delivers a similar course on board cruise ships. He has also served on the Board of the Australian Maritime College.

COVID-19

In order to help slow the spread of COVID-19 and to protect the health and safety of our trainees and staff, AMC Search (AMCS) is operating a COVID-Safe campus aligned with the protocols and procedures established by the University of Tasmania. This includes automatic screening for on-campus trainees, enhanced hygiene and social distancing controls.

Strict Tasmanian border controls will impact your training if you are planning on travelling to train with AMC Search from interstate. For up-to-date information about Tasmania’s border controls please visit the Tasmanian Government.

Due to the pandemic AMSA have approved the temporary postponement of maritime training and are using the provision contained within Marine Order 70 section 15 to extend seafarer certificates for up to six months. AMSA will do this if satisfied that the person does not meet revalidation requirements due to circumstances beyond their control due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Please visit the AMSA website for instructions on how to apply for an extension.

All Online Maritime Training courses running as normal.

Also, some courses can be adapted to online delivery at short notice so please call 03 63249852 to discuss your training requirements.
